Hard to believe that Thanksgiving is just around the corner – a time of gathering together with friends and family to enjoy tasty food and wine – and here we are, still in the thick of a pandemic that demands distance. While we are lucky to have technologies that can connect us, none are quite as good as the real thing, so let us provide you with some comfort this Thanksgiving. Chef Allison has come up with a menu that recalls the classics yet honors local flavors as well. The AV wine team will offer pairing suggestions as the time gets closer
